ABOUT THE VCHECK24 MONITORING & SUPERVISION SYSTEM FOR JUVENILES

Smartphone monitoring for juvenile criminal justice supervision is not a new concept. Various programs have been available since at least 2015.

Slow adoption by the market can be attributed to not enough juveniles owning smartphones, inadequate monitoring and tracking features, and complicated systems that are not intuitive and require hours of training.

Changing rapidly are the numbers of juveniles who own smartphones making this type of monitoring a very viable, cost effective solution for effectively monitoring juveniles.

Changed are the smartphone monitoring products available for the juvenile criminal justice and rehabilitation marketplace.

The patented VCheck24 was developed as a result of hundreds of hours of market and product research, with the end users in mind. The very latest in advanced smartphone supervision and monitoring.

VCheck24 finally brings a highly flexible, feature rich, yet user friendly and intuitive system into the hands of criminal justice officers and rehab staff everywhere.

Monitoring by smartphone requires no installer as it can be setup by our head office immediately, and the cost per month would be just about half the cost of an ankle monitor per month.

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING WHEN CHOOSING THE SMARTPHONE APP FOR JUVENILES

A smartphone monitoring and supervision app for the juvenile population may only be a good fit on certain occasions, or maybe most effective as a graduated sanction in between GPS ankle bracelet monitoring and no electronic monitoring...an incentive to do well on the ankle bracelet and graduate past it, but not a full removal of EM. Perhaps the juvenile cannot wear an ankle monitor due to physical reasons or participates in contact sports, or perhaps an ankle monitoring bracelet at school invites negative reactions by other students and is accompanied by a negative stigma.
